An Extra Special and Affordable Touch to Your Event

We had a very informal cookout-type style party for our grandmother, at which Matt performed for 2 hours. A live entertainer really made the party, and it was fun to see Grandma singing along with her favorites. Matt went out of his way to make sure he not only sang what we wanted, but that he also interacted with Grandma and the family in the way we expected. After he was finished he spoke with my kids about jazz music as they play drums and trumpet - educational and they were thrilled to get some "insider" musician information. Very memorable touch on our casual party, but he can make it as grand as you like if you need more. We will for sure find a party to hire him for again, and highly recommend him for yours!
